

Student Email Accounts

Catawba County Schools students have an opportunity to be assigned student email accounts. We will be using Gaggle, a proven student email service that provides filtered email controlled by the teacher. Gaggle filters for content and addresses. You can find more information about Gaggle by logging on http://gaggle.net/site_index.html. Catawba County Schools is participating in the "no-advertising" version of Gaggle.

Please read the terms of service below. Sign the bottom of the form and return it to your student's school. Your student should already have an Acceptable Use Policy (AUP) on file at the school (this form was distributed at the beginning of the year). Students will NOT be allowed to have an email account without the signed consent form below and a signed AUP. All terms and conditions described in the Catawba County Schools Acceptable Use Policy shall also apply to email usage.

Gaggle Terms of Service

Guideline I: Unacceptable uses of Gaggle E-Mail include:

1. Transmitting any content; by which we mean text, software, images, sounds, and other information, that is unlawful, harmful, threatening, abusive, harassing, vulgar, obscene, in bad taste, hateful, of malicious intent, or racially, ethnically, or otherwise offensive.
2. Impersonating any other person, entity, or organization or misrepresenting your affiliation with any other person, entity, or organization.
3. Intentionally transmitting any material that contains software viruses designed to interrupt or destroy the use of computer software, hardware, or the Gaggle service.
4. Transmitting any "spam," "chain letters," "pyramid schemes," etc.
5. Copying any content that would be in violation of patent, trademark, copyright law, or other protected material.

Guideline II: Responsibility.

Account users shall be responsible for unauthorized access made through their user name and password. For this reason Gaggle recommends that users change their passwords periodically.

Guideline III: Security

Gaggle uses a variety of measures to protect the security and privacy of its users (please refer to the privacy statement on the Gaggle web site for further details). Users should be aware, however, that Gaggle cannot guarantee security and confidentiality. Gaggle accepts no responsibility for harm caused directly or indirectly by its use. Users should also be aware that the use of Gaggle E-mail is not private. While Gaggle does not routinely monitor message content, it may be necessary to backup or review messages to identify network problems or if a user has violated this policy. Gaggle, at its discretion, may choose to turn over or make available message content to appropriate personnel or law enforcement agencies if required.

Guideline IV: Message Storage and Other Limitations

The amount of email storage space per user is based upon the subscription option chosen by your school, company or organization. Gaggle is not responsible or liable for the deletion of messages or other information.

Guideline V: Warranty

Gaggle users agree that use of Gaggle e-mail is at the sole risk of the user. Gaggle does not guarantee that members will be able to access or use the Gaggle network at all times or from all geographic locations.

Guideline VI: Indemnification

You agree to hold Gaggle and all of its employees and affiliates harmless from any damage or claim arising from your use of this service.
